

Product Overview

The AX-EP-TL2 Electro thermal link is used to interrupt the electrical supply to a gas valve or alarm and is usually installed in a position where a fire hazard may occur e.g. above boilers. The link consists of a cast aluminium enclosure with a perforated cover having a temperature sensitive fuse

Features

- Fast acting thermal fuse
- 5A @ 240Vac rating

Product Specifications

|                           |            |                              |
|---------------------------|------------|------------------------------|
| Output Contacts:   |            | 1 x SPDT                     |
| Contact Rating:    |            | 10A @ 240V ac                |
| Keys:              |            | 2 keys                       |
| Dimensions:        |            | 75mm x 50mm x 30mm (approx.) |
| Temperature:       | Ambient    | 0 to 180 deg C               |
|                           | Activation | 72 deg C                     |
| Weight:            |            | 60 gms                       |
| Protection:        |            | IP20                         |
| Country of Origin: |            | United Kingdom               |

Order Codes

AX-EP-TL2 - Electro Thermal Link

Connections

